

Insurance Eligibility FAQ

Synthetic healthcare FAQ document for RAG testing

Document Notice

This file is synthetic and created only for healthcare AI assistant RAG testing. It does not contain real patient data, PHI, confidential client data, or actual medical advice.

1. Overview

This FAQ explains basic insurance eligibility verification, patient responsibility, pre-authorization, rejected claims, and documentation expectations. It is a synthetic document for testing.

2. Eligibility Verification

Insurance eligibility should be checked before scheduled services whenever possible. Verification confirms active coverage, plan type, patient responsibility, co-pay, deductible, and coverage dates.

- Insurance eligibility should be checked before scheduled services whenever possible.
- Verification confirms active coverage, plan type, patient responsibility, co-pay, deductible, and coverage dates.

3. Documents Needed

Patients may need to provide insurance card, government ID, policy number, member ID, group number, date of birth, employer details if applicable, and referral or authorization documents when required.

4. Pre-Authorization

Certain procedures, specialist visits, imaging, surgeries, or high-cost services may require pre-authorization. Lack of pre-authorization may lead to delays or claim denial.

- Lack of pre-authorization may lead to delays or claim denial.

5. Coverage Limitations

Eligibility verification does not guarantee payment. Final coverage depends on payer rules, medical necessity, documentation, coding, and claim review.

6. Patient Responsibility

Patients may be responsible for co-pay, deductible, co-insurance, non-covered services, and charges denied by insurance based on policy terms.

- Patients may be responsible for co-pay, deductible, co-insurance, non-covered services, and charges denied by insurance based on policy terms.

7. Denied or Rejected Claims

If a claim is denied, billing staff may review the denial reason, correct documentation if appropriate, appeal when allowed, or inform the patient about next steps.

8. AI Assistant Boundary

The AI assistant may summarize FAQ rules but must not guarantee insurance payment or provide legal/financial advice.
